NVDA:- Non Visual Desktop Access

NVDA is open source software, which means the code is accessible to anyone. This enables translators and developers around the world to continually contribute to its expansion and improvement. In April 2006 Michael began to develop a free screen reader called NVDA (NonVisual Desktop Access) for use with computers running on Windows.

NVDA (NonVisual Desktop Access) is free "screen reader" software. Which is enables blind and vision impairs people to use computers. It reads the text on the screen in a computerized voice. You can control what is read to you by moving the cursor to the relevant area of text with a mouse or the arrows on your keyboard. NVDA can also convert the text into braille if the computer user owns a device called a "Braille display". NVDA provides the key to education and employment for many blind people. NVDA works with Microsoft Windows.
